ABOUT FAPAC

The Federal Asian Pacific American Council (FAPAC) was founded in 1985. It is a nonprofit, nonpartisan organization representing the civilian and military Asian Pacific American (APA) employees in the Federal and District of Columbia governments.

FAPAC is organized exclusively for educational purposes within the meaning of Section 501 (c) (3) of the Internal Revenue Code. The primary purpose of FAPAC is to serve as an interagency association within the Federal and District of Columbia Governments, providing a focus for over thirty ethnically distinct groups originating from Asian and Pacific regions as recognized by the United States Bureau of the Census.

MISSION

FAPAC is an organization that promotes equal opportunity and cultural diversity for APAs within the Federal and District of Columbia governments. FAPAC encourages the participation and advancement of APAs in the Government work force.

VISION

FAPAC will be a nationally recognized organization that serves as a conduit through which the interests, issues and representation of Asian Pacific Americans in the Federal, State, County, City and District of Columbia governments are addressed. It will also promote partnerships with the public and private sectors in the community it serves.
CODE OF ETHICS

Each member shall uphold the vision and objectives of FAPAC as expressed in its Constitutions and Bylaws. It is incumbent upon each member to behave honorably in representing FAPAC in all organization activities and avoid in engaging in any transaction that may come in conflict with the interest of FAPAC.

OBJECTIVES

Increase APA participation in the Government. Assist the Federal and District of Columbia Governments in promoting, establishing, and maintaining an effective and equitable participation of Asian Pacific Americans in the workforce.

Promote recognition of APA competencies. Promote overall awareness of the impact of Asian and Pacific cultures, contributions, work ethics, and behavior as related to government employment.

Find solutions to challenges. Promote a better understanding of, and to seek solutions for, the particular problems, including Equal Employment Opportunity, of Asian Pacific Americans in the Federal and District of Columbia workforces.

Establish coalitions and good will. Establish and maintain channels of communication and good will between Asian Pacific Americans and other individuals in the Federal and District of Columbia governments and the community in general.

Train for advancement, leadership and cultural understanding. Promote the career development and advancement of Asian Pacific Americans in the Federal and District of Columbia governments – and to do so through such vehicles as sponsorship of leadership and training conferences, Asian Pacific American Heritage observances, and developmental workshops.
STRATEGIES TO ACHIEVE OBJECTIVES

Increase APA Participation in the Government:

Monthly Meetings: Report to the members on special hiring initiatives. Invite guest speakers from OPM and Federal agencies to describe recruitment activities and opportunities.

Job Search: Continue Avue Technologies partnership to provide a FAPAC gateway to Federal job listings. Send email notices of job postings to members.

Outreach: Foster positive relationships with officials at OPM, the White House, and hiring agencies to partner with FAPAC on job fairs and other recruitment efforts. Provide scholarships to APA students who have an interest in a government career.

Annual Conference: Include a Job Fair, agency exhibits, and workshops and plenary sessions pertaining to preparing resumes, interview skills, and SES candidate programs. Include a youth program to interest students in a career in the Federal government.

Promote Recognition of APA Competencies:

Monthly Meetings: Recognize promotions and appointments of APAs in Government.

Special Events: Hold Awards Luncheon to recognize FAPAC volunteers and supporters. Attend and support events by partner organizations/agencies to recognize the value of diversity and the accomplishments of minorities and women in the Federal workplace.

Annual Conference: Include military and civilian awards programs in the conference agenda, and introduce and recognize APA executives and managers.

Find Solutions to Challenges:

Monthly Meetings: Report to members on developments on the glass ceiling issue, national origin discrimination in employment, EEO-related laws and regulations, legal rights, etc. Invite guest speakers on related topics.

Consultation: Participate in EEOC, OPM and other town hall meetings and dialogues on affirmative employment policies and practices. Strengthen partnerships with EEOC, OPM, etc. to prevent discrimination and promote diversity.

Annual Conference: Include workshops and plenary sessions related to civil rights and preventing and countering discrimination. Invite APA Members of Congress to speak.

Establish Coalitions and Good Will:

Monthly Meetings: Report to members on FAPAC’s outreach and sponsorship activities. Invite guest speakers from related diversity organizations to discuss best practices to achieve goals.

Outreach: Build coalitions by meeting with partner organizations and agencies and sponsor their activities to the extent the activities reflect and support FAPAC’s mission and objectives: e.g., Asian American Government Executives Network, White House Initiative on AAPIs, Conference on APA Leadership, National Coalition for Equity in Public Service (NCEPS includes FAPAC, Blacks in Government, Federally Employed Women, and National Image). Make presentations at external events.

Annual Conference: Promote networking, interagency communication, scholarships, and youth programs. Spotlight partnerships like DoD, DOL, NCEPS and AAGEN.
Train for Advancement, Leadership and Cultural Understanding:

Monthly Meetings: Invite guest speakers on career development, leadership skills, and personal competencies. Inform members of cross-cultural education events.

Outreach: Contact Federal agencies to encourage establishing individual development plans and mentorships for APA employees. Enlist support from APA Members of Congress and APA senior executives as role models and advisors to FAPAC.
